YOUNG BLOODS GIVE THEIR BLOOD in answer to the urgent call for donors at the Red Cross Clinic. This is just part of a group of high school students who were given time off from classes yesterday afternoon to attend the clinic at the United Church en masse. "We are lagging behind and have a long way to go," A. K. W. Fraser, co-chairman of the Red Cross Blood Donor Clinic, said today in spite of such group pledges as the students made. During the afternoon and again last night only 280 persons responded to the call for a pint of blood. "With an objective of 1,000 pints we must have a steady response in order to make our quota," Mr. Fraser declared, "we hope everyone isn't going to leave it to the last minute."

Calls For All-German Council

GENEVA (BUP)—Soviet Russia called today for establishment of an "All-German Council" to represent the German people while the country remains divided. In an obviously "loaded" proposal designed to force the Bonn Republic to recognize Communist East Germany, the Soviets urged setting up such a council composed of members of both West and East German Parliaments.

It would be consultative but could not represent the whole German people, the Soviet proposal said. This would be so not only in coordinating the political and cultural life of the divided nation but also in cooperation with other countries "in the consolidation of peace."

Canadian C. of C. President Here Friday

John G. Crean, of Toronto, president of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, will be the guest of the Board of Trade and City Council on Friday. Elected to his high post in October, Mr. Crean is on a tour of Western Canada.

Board of Trade members and other citizens are invited to meet Mr. Crean at luncheon in the Prince Charles Hotel at 12 noon, Friday. Those planning to attend are asked to notify the Board of Trade secretary by phoning 4103 on Thursday.

The new head of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce is the third member of his family to head up Canada's oldest hat-making company—Adams Hats, Canada Limited, Toronto.

He has served the Canadian Chamber of Commerce in many offices and has played a prominent role in the Canadian Institute of International Affairs.

According To The Mood

I must have been altogether too subtle in Monday's column, subject cats. What I was trying to put over was a distress call, a disguised SOS—will someone please take a kitten and save a columnist from being smothered under a mound of cat fur? Apparently no one recognized the piece as an SOS, or, more likely, they figured that smothering was a better fate than this, or any other columnist, deserves.

WANTED home for one kitten, tabby, all teeth and claws, always hungry, apply this column, Penticton Herald.

Bench. Kids—hundreds of 'em, so it seemed.

Emotional jag of the Vancouver Sun over the firing of Annis Stukus, ex-coach of the B.C. Lions, might have been more effective if it had not been inspired by teeth gnashing Sun sports writers who for weeks past have been practically daring the Lions' executive to fire Stukus. As for Stukus, he commands my admiration more for his dignified acceptance of the situation than he ever did when he was riding high wide and handsome. And why all the abuse of a board of directors who are doing their job, according to the way they see it? Why are the Sun sports writers making so much of a 13-10 vote when at this very time they are agitating for the question of Sunday sport to be decided by a majority opinion? And, if it is taken, and if it is in favor of Sunday sport, but only by a small majority, will the Sun sport writers argue that the verdict shouldn't stand? Not on your life.

I don't take any pleasure in seeing a man fired whose only crime, to my knowledge, is that he didn't produce a winning team, but that's a recognized hazard of coaching, particularly in football. In any event Stukus has three years, which is a long life for a losing coach in football.

Mood turned ugly this morning when I found the following postcard in my mail. Signed by one William R. Sullivan, 720 West Tenth Pl., Los Angeles 15, Calif. The postcard reads: "A deduction—unless something is done soon to stop the rising Chinese birth rate, in a few years we are going to be engaged in a war trying to stop them from overrunning all of Europe."

I presume this particular hate monger got his wires crossed and meant to say overrunning all of Asia.

Often wonder what makes people like that tick—what vicious thought goes on inside their pointed heads to be translated into such a propaganda action, for undoubtedly newspapers all over the country will have received similar postcards. I'd like to see a Penitentiary being built in Penticton with one cell earmarked for William R. Sullivan—for a cell is what the guy needs, whether a prison cell of stone and steel or one of the padded variety. Sane or crazy—that man and others like him are dangerous.

Unless you want to get your head snapped off don't go advising the mayor or any of his aldermen or any of the city's public works department to watch their step. They're sensitive about steps these days and, incidentally, if you happen to be pedestrian across Nanaimo to continue along Martin street to the Central Building corner—watch your own step—for there is a step down on to Martin street that shouldn't be. New Nanaimo avenue sidewalk is about four inches above level of Martin street sidewalk. These things do happen, but one can't help but wonder why? Seems some folks must have been following the credo of the Light Brigade—There's not to reason why—there's but to do—and to heck with it. Jack hammers busy today breaking up the new concrete.

Overnight Snowfall Here Earliest In Ten Years

A blanket of snow, earliest fall here in 10 years, covers Penticton today and the forecaster says flurries will continue tonight.

Cars slithered into ditches on dangerously slippery streets, sanding crews were busy on hills and at intersections, and apple picking came to a halt as winter blew its first breath on the Okanagan.

It was in 1945 that snow fell earlier than today, November 2, when the first flurry came on October 21.

Records of first snows in Penticton, dating back to 1814, are kept by D. G. Penny, secretary-treasurer of the Penticton Coop.

Mr. Penny's records reveal that in 1942 snow fell on this same day. Earlier falls were recorded on October 22 in 1933, October 16 in 1930, October 27 in 1925 and October 25 in 1919.

"There seems to be a cycle of early snow that runs about every five or six years," Mr. Penny said, "otherwise we usually don't get snow until the latter part of November or in December."

A cloud cover probably saved the balance of the apple crop from freezing last night. The temperature dipped to 24 degrees about midnight but cloud cover and snow brought the mercury up again.

Most of the apple crop is now off. The average orchard has from two to five days of picking left.

BUT PICKERS STILL NEEDED

Although today's snow brought apple picking to a halt, many growers are hopeful that they can complete the harvest by the end of the week.

With this in mind, the Farm Labor Office suggests that a good neighbor deed would be to share the help until all picking is completed.

In a statement today, H. K. Whimster, placement officer, said: "The greatest kindness you could render your neighbors would be to share the help you have on hand when you finish, to help them complete their picking as quickly as possible."

"It wouldn't hurt a bit if these helpers stayed in your cabin a day or two after you finished in order to be handy to help your neighbors. Let's all try and do this to the greatest extent possible before your pickers finally leave your cabins."

"If you advise this office of the neighbors you have been able to aid it will help us to distribute whatever help there is to the best advantage."

"Let's all work together on this."

A BLAST FROM THE RAY GUN of The Lady From Mars (Arlene Kay) ends the promising career of The Crazy Mixed Up Kid (Jimmy Crook), but not before this pair were presented with first prize in the 12 years'-and-under class, for best costumes at the Kinsmen Hallowe'en party.

CIGARETTE GIRL—HALLOWE'EN STYLE is Wendy Palmer who with buxom "baby" Douglas Chambers won the girls' and boys' eight years and under costume contest sponsored annually by the Kinsmen club. They were judged at the old gym then snake-paraded to Queen's Park for the huge bonfire and fireworks.

THE FEARSOME WEREWOLF (Leonard Keir) and the traditional Hallowe'en witch (Caroline Savenko) hatch up dark deeds for the spooks' annual night on the town. This dark pair won the boys' and girls' ten years-and-under costume prize.

Student Pickers Must Return To School Tomorrow

Mixed apple pickers are being called back to their classes.

About 100 high school students who were excused from school to help bring in the apple crop are advised that they are to return to classes tomorrow morning.

H. D. Pritchard, high school principal, said today that students not in school tomorrow will be marked as absent.

Orchardists are asked to cooperate with school authorities in seeing that the students go back to school.

KRAMER TRIAL NOVEMBER 14

VERNON—When fall Assizes, County of Yale, re-opened on Tuesday before Mr. Justice H. W. McInnes, it was indicated that George Kramer, 28, of West Summerland, would answer to a charge of murder, on November 14.

After a three-day recess, the assizes re-convened with Larry Tenycke, of Vernon, pleading "not guilty" to two statutory offences, (rape and carnal knowledge), involving a 14-year-old Vernon girl, which allegedly occurred on July 2.

John Atkins, Penticton, is Crown Counsel, with John A. Davis, Vernon, appearing for the accused.

His Lordship dismissed the remainder of the jury panel until November 14.

Two women are on the jury list. This is the first time in many years that two women have been so summoned. On each of the three trials so far held their names have been drawn, but they have been challenged in each instance.

MARKETS FOR N.S. APPLES

KENTVILLE, N.S. — (BUP)—The United Fruit Companies of Nova Scotia announced today, markets had been found in the United States for 100,000 bushels of Annapolis Valley cooking apples for processing.

Secretary James F. Crossman said six varieties were needed to fill the order which, although not yet signed "is pretty definite." He added that the price would be better than the 70 cents per barrel being paid for apples purchased locally for processing into concentrates.

The U.S. order comes hard on the heels of an announcement that Nova Scotia fruit growers would find markets in Germany, Sweden and the Netherlands this season.

To date, markets have been found for only about half of this year's bumper 4,000,000 bushel apple crop. More than 1,000,000 bushels are still on the trees.

SHEEP, DOES FOUND SHOT

OSOYOOS — Remains of two Bighorn mountain sheep ewes and two mule deer does have been found near Okanagan Falls.

The animals are believed to have been shot by an irresponsible hunter.

A young boy was out riding the range when he spotted buzzards circling over the area. His horse became unruly so he proceeded on foot to where the carcasses lay.

It is believed the animals were shot at the time in September when there was a short open season on old rams.

The Royal Romance

Princess Margaret's romance has reached a poignant crisis in renunciation. But a world's sympathy for the personal elements which have been woven into the sad but by no means new situation should not now be carried too far.

For a royal princess to do what was construed for her as her duty really should not be any surprising development. To suggest that she do otherwise is actually to reflect on the whole concept of royalty and its duty to church and state.

Perhaps these duties are unrealistic. That a mass of people in England have felt so has been evident in the clamor of recent months. But the teachings that have been made applicable to millions of commoners by a state church are hardly to be revamped under the sudden urgings of a royal romance, indeed for a royal romance least of all. And for the princess to leave her position, in the alternative attempt at a solution, would only be to suggest that individual aspiration ranks above any conflicting obligation. Many hearts were broken and life itself surrendered during two world wars of recent memory, in which an oath of allegiance to the crown took precedence over personal desires, because that oath represented fealty to the whole commonwealth. The symbolism must be perpetuated by those who undertake any prominent part of the royal life. Or else the ultimate logic must be for us to give up the whole royal project as just so much empty showmanship and vain trappings. If royalty is to continue it must have more meaning in it than is written into it in the recent vaporings of so much of the British press, vulgarly aimed at the addled-pated maid-servant below-stairs, while it continues, all the while, to pay loyal lip-service to the throne.

This is no endorsement of the teachings of the state church in question. Liberalizing of the attitude to divorce, we submit, is long overdue. But the outcome of the Princess Margaret story, as further submit, falls within the perspective of what is logical and fitting, under circumstances existing here and now.

There is a further observation with regard to this whole situation that can profitably be emphasized. Its constant overtones have dominated the story since it first engrossed a world's attention.

Group Captain Townsend does not manage to persist in many of our minds as of much stature.

If he sincerely loved the princess, he could surely envision the complexities that the romance would visit upon her. And he could have ended the matter, long since, by dissembling if need be. Many another man has done the same, to the accompaniment of no fanfare whatever, in circumstances not greatly different. What's more, he should have been old enough to realize that any young woman's heart, even a princess's, can mend—she was barely of age when her attachment to Townsend apparently started.

We are forced to the uncomfortable conclusion that Townsend rather enjoyed the limelight of things, despite his protestations, and if this had been more forcefully suggested by the British press in earlier days, the prolonged dilemma might more quickly have been ended by Princess Margaret herself.

The ending, in brief, could really have been unhappier than it is.

Christmas Seal Time Again

Now is the time (to paraphrase the familiar typing exercise) for all good men—and women—to come to the aid of the society.

The seals are bright and gay in keeping with the Christmas season. They're just the thing to bedeck letters and gifts to friends and loved ones.

But bear in mind that they also are the emblems of a great crusade against an insidious enemy that still claims many lives each year in Canada.

The enemy is tuberculosis and Christmas seals help finance the war against it on Canada's west coast.

They have provided the funds with which the society purchases special equipment and hospital materials; maintains its educational service and preventive programs against the disease.

The importance of this work cannot be over-emphasized.

Tuberculosis is a killer that can be totally defeated through education and prevention. But so far it has been forced only into retreat; it is constantly ready to strike back and spread in ever-widening circles.

Its defeat will come only if the attack against it is relentlessly maintained, with citizens from all walks of life striking a lusty blow whenever they can.

One of the best times to strike a blow in this war is during the society's fund campaign by buying Christmas seals.

They'll brighten your letters and parcels—and help guard the health of you and your loved ones.

An Important Date

November 8 will be the 60th anniversary of an important date for mankind, for it was on this date that William Conrad Roentgen first looked at something no one had seen before—the bones of a living hand.

This was proof to him that he had discovered a new kind of ray, which he named the "X" ray, the x representing an unknown quantity.

The means of looking inside people, which was thus provided marked the starting point of a tremendous forward movement in medical science. The number of lives saved through use of this discovery can only be estimated, but they must be many.

It is typical of scientific progress.

Roentgen had no idea that he was marking an epoch in medical advancement when he conducted his experiments. He was a Bavarian physics professor and was engaged in research work with no thought of any commercial value to his studies.

But that little single Crookes tube that enabled him to see the bones of his hand has been developed into huge machines that are a standard part of the equipment of modern hospitals and doctor's offices.

Without it today, modern surgery as we know it would not exist. It eliminates the element of guesswork in many operations, such as the setting of broken bones, cancer, location and removal of foreign substances in the human body and many others.

Humanity owes a debt of gratitude to this Bavarian professor who stumbled onto those unknown rays 60 years ago.

WHEN YOU'D LOVE TO LIVE FOREVER

NEWS FROM Victoria

By J. K. Nesbitt

VICTORIA — It was a pretty good pep talk Premier Bennett gave to his faithful followers at the recent Social Credit convention in Vancouver. He talked tough to them, as well as telling them what fine boys and girls they are.

Mr. Bennett duly sang the praises of Social Credit, said it's on the march and nothing will stop it, and those at the convention cheered the Premier and treated him as the hero he is to them. And, indeed, so he should be a Social Credit hero, for, make no mistake about it, Social Credit wouldn't be in power today had it not been for that remarkable politician called W. A. C. Bennett.

The Premier is to be admired for the way he spoke out about patronage. He gave a warning to S.C.'ers that they're not going to get government jobs just because they're good S.C.'ers. That's not enough, said the Premier; if they joined Social Credit only in the hope of getting government jobs, well, said the Premier in effect, Social Credit doesn't want them and they might just as well let their membership lapse and so be out of Social Credit, and let real S.C.'ers say good riddance to them, the trouble-makers!

One wonders why the Premier spoke so forthrightly. He certainly wouldn't have dragged such an unpleasant topic out of thin air and waved it about unless he thought the time had come to speak so forthrightly. It must be that he sees signs of rank-and-file S.C.'ers wanting government plums, signs that there's some S.C. displeasure that too many government jobs are going to people who are NOT S.C.'ers.

To be truthful, one must state that government jobs since Mr. Bennett took over have been on the basis of merit, not on the basis of politics, as so frequently happened in the old days. On the other hand, of course, a number of S.C.'ers have been taken care of by the government, but by and large appointments seem to have been reasonably free of politics.

The government's political enemies say that S.C.'ers haven't the brains to take any position higher than that of doorknoper, and Mr. Bennett's smart enough to know it, and so keeps out of trouble by going outside S.C. ranks when he must make appointments to the civil service.

S.C.'ers who think they should have government jobs just because they're S.C.'ers, the Premier told the S.C.'ers, should go back to the old parties they forsake to become S.C.'ers.

Well, that was plain as plain could be; surely S.C.'ers will take the hint. Mr. Bennett hopes his outspoken speech will silence them. If not he'll speak out again; Mr. Bennett, it must be said, is never afraid to speak out in a loud voice.

His talk about patronage, too, shows he's determined to keep the whip hand in S.C. ranks. And so he should! He's the boss! There can be but one boss, in a government, or in a political party. Once the boss' authority is challenged, the party or the government is through. You can't be a boss and permit someone else to tell you what to do.

By taking on the job himself of telling S.C.'ers they're not going to get government jobs just because they're S.C.'ers, the Premier shows he's so much the boss that he doesn't even have to get one of his underlings to do his dirty work for him. He'll do it himself if he has to!

If any of Mr. Bennett's political enemies hoped to see, at last week's S.C. convention, any signs of rifts within S.C. ranks, any hints of a rank-and-file rebellion against Mr. Bennett they were much disappointed.

Decorated Christmas Tree For Presbyterian Church Tea, Bazaar On Saturday

A large Christmas tree brightened with tinsel baubles and other seasonal ornaments and hung with dozens and dozens of gaily packaged gifts, all to be offered for sale, will be the focal interest for decorations at the bazaar and tea to be held on Saturday afternoon in the hall of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church under the sponsorship of the Ladies' Aid.

President Mrs. J. L. Paethorpe, who is general convener of arrangements, and Mrs. Samuel McGladdy will be at the door to receive the guests when the bazaar officially opens at 2:30 p.m.

Many attractive features have been planned for the LA's annual fund raising project. Afternoon tea will be served under the co-sponsorship of Mrs. Archie Fead with the assistance of Mrs. James McGown, Mrs. G. L. Docker, Mrs. M. J. Robertson, Mrs. R. R. Brownlow, Mrs. Ernest Serlie, Mrs. L. H. Robinson, Mrs. John Daniel and Mrs. J. A. Patrick.

A wide and varied selection of homecooking will be for sale under the direction of Mrs. Frank Hayhurst and Mrs. Andrew Gillespie.

Mrs. F. G. Abbott, Mrs. H. C. Rosborough and Mrs. W. C. Stockand, will be in charge of a booth containing many lovely articles of sewing and fancy work while Miss Eva MacMichael will sell cut flowers and plants.

Mrs. E. C. Cretney will direct the sale of the homemade candy; Mrs. E. V. Stevens will receive orders for pretty Christmas cards to be delivered later and Mrs. W. E. Carter is in charge of the de-

Bridal Shower For Louise Washington

SUMMERLAND — Miss Louise Washington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Washington, is being entertained widely prior to her marriage to J. G. McMynn of Midway. The wedding is to take place in St. Stephen's Anglican Church on November 5.

On Thursday evening Mrs. F. M. Stuart was a shower hostess at the home of Mrs. Harry Bradick.

An original idea was carried out in the sunroom which had been converted into a country store, complete with shelves and counter. When the surprised guest of honor arrived she was given a corsage of yellow mums and white carnations and store cart an asked to get her parcels from the store where the prettily wrapped gifts were the stock.

In a contest which was enjoyed by Mrs. Rex Chapman and Mrs. Alan McKenzie tied for first place.

The dining-room table was daintily with pink and blue streamers and two heart-shaped decorated cakes were flanked by pink tapers.

Other guests included the bride's mother Mrs. B. T. Washington, and two grandmothers, Mrs. J. T. Washington and Mrs. Dave Thompson, her aunt, Mrs. George Washington, Mrs. T. A. Walden, Mrs. Margaret Laidlaw, Mrs. K. M. Stuart, Mrs. H. Mott, Mrs. Bert Berry, Mrs. L. W. Rumball, Mrs. Leslie Rumball, Mrs. A. R. Dunsdon, Mrs. A. F. Calder, Mrs. K. McIntosh, Mrs. W. S. Ritchie, Mrs. A. K. Elliott, Mrs. T. A. McDonald, Mrs. Ben Mayne, Mrs. E. O. White, Mrs. George Forster, Mrs. Ralph Blewett, Mrs. G. Axworthy, Penticton, Mrs. Channon Snow, Mrs. J. L. Gould, Mrs. J. Soroptimist Club To Raffle Food Hamper

The regular business meeting of the Penticton Soroptimist Club was held last week in the Three Gables Hotel.

The ways and means committee brought forward a number of projects for discussion among which was a raffle for a food hamper in aid of the senior citizens. Tickets will be available shortly from club members.

SALMON-CHEESE CASSEROLE

Crusty buttered triangles garnish the bubbly cheese topping of this meal-in-one dish. And underneath is a succulent creamy mixture of salmon... in a sauce made rich with evaporated milk and tangy with onion and lemon juice. Well-Attended Meeting For Local Association To Guides, Brownies

Mrs. F. D. Kay, newly elected president of the local association to Guides and Brownies, presided at the well-attended monthly meeting on Thursday evening in the Red Cross Centre.

Plans were finalized for the children's annual Halloween party and reports were submitted on the recent division meeting at Summerland and from Fairy Godmothers, the latter indicating a very fine interest in the various activities.

Provincial camp commissioner, Mrs. Emmert, will be in Penticton today and an invitation has been extended to all interested in helping at the Guide Camp to meet her.

A badge committee chosen consisted of Mrs. W. R. Carruthers, Mrs. L. L. Odell, Mrs. A. A. Shipton, Mrs. J. Howe, and Mrs. Juan. A discussion was held on the Golden Hand testing day to be held in November.

Two patrol leaders, Helen Pas-lawski from the 2nd Penticton Guide Company, and Sharon Southworth from the 1st Penticton Guide Company, were present at the meeting and asked the LA to cater to a banquet for them on Saturday, November 19, at which time the patrol leaders' conference will be held here.

The 3rd Penticton Brownie Pack with Mrs. J. J. Johnson as Brown Owl won the plaque for having the most mothers in attendance.

Mrs. E. A. Titchmarsh, district commissioner, expressed her appreciation to all who had contributed to the success and pleasure of Lady Baden-Powell's recent visit to this city.

If Husband Holes Up In Basement, Join Him There

IF HUSBAND Most women like some social life but some men seem to be happy with none.

The wife of such a man writes: "How can a husband and wife have any kind of companionship if the husband spends all of his time at home tinkering and working on gadgets and just being a 'brain'?"

"When we get invitations to card parties he says 'No. If I want to go on a trip I have to go alone."

"I am a woman of 40 with a grown son and am still young at heart and enjoy being gay and having fun. It gets pretty monotonous to sit every evening alone while my husband stays in the basement with his hobbies."

If a man refuses to share his wife's interests there is only one way for them to have any kind of companionship and that is for her to share his.

Evidently this wife hasn't tried to share her husband's or she wouldn't speak so disdainfully of his hobbies as "tinkering and being a 'brain'."

BUILD DAYTIME SOCIAL LIFE What is he doing that he finds so fascinating? Is he experimenting, building, inventing, or what? He must be doing something interesting down there in the basement.

Why not follow him down there and look on for a few evenings? He probably won't be able to resist explaining what he is doing or trying to do and at least you'll get some conversation.

It's no fun having a husband who says "No" to all social invitations. But a wife who isn't tied down by small children should be able to have pretty much of a social life during the day while her husband is at work.

So why not do your going and entertaining in the daytime and at night either be your husband's admirer or helper as he works at his hobbies. Or find yourself a basement hobby.

Two persons working side by side can have a lot of companionship.

Coffee Party Honors Representative From Children's Hospital

Mrs. A. Earl Wells, president to the local Guild to B.C.'s Children's Hospital, Vancouver, and Mrs. W. C. Dupont were co-hostesses at a coffee party on Monday morning entertaining at the home of Mrs. Dupont for Mrs. Jean Gould, public relations officer for the Vancouver Institution.

The honored guest was making a tour of valley centres in connection with the forthcoming March of Dimes campaign.

Spike Heels Called Hazard In Driving

NEW YORK (U.P.) — Spike heels have tripped many a woman driver into an automobile accident.

The Leather Industries of America, quoting safety officials on the high-heeled hazard, warns that the best footwear for the lady motorist is a "driving" shoe — with a heel no higher than 1½ inches. The organization says high heels are hazardous because the shoe slips off the pedal, often with disastrous results when braking or using the clutch. "Taking your shoes off may rent you on a long trip, but socking feet are just about as hazardous as spike heels."

The babysitter who has a cold should avoid close contact with an infant. If it is necessary to handle the child, some authorities advise wearing a mask of several thicknesses of gauze over the nose and mouth, which should be destroyed after use. The hands should be washed before handling baby or his food. Always cover nose and mouth with a disposable tissue when coughing or sneezing.

Junior's toys or bicycle, if left on the sidewalk, may make a dangerous obstacle over which a blind pedestrian or short-sighted person could fall. If the youngster persists in leaving his possessions in dangerous places, it is a good idea to withhold the article from him for a while as a reminder that it should be put away in a safe place.

St. Saviour's Annual Tea And Bazaar To Be Held In Parish Hall On Saturday

The many who are associated with the various senior and junior women's organizations within the parish of St. Saviour's Anglican Church are combining their talents and efforts in promotion of their annual fall bazaar and tea to be held on Saturday afternoon from 2:30 to 5 p.m. in the parish hall. Mrs. J. T. Young is general convener of the bazaar while the tea will be under the chairmanship of Mrs. D. E. McFarland with Mrs. Robert Freeman as co-convener.

An attractive harvest theme has been planned for the occasion; Mrs. Peter Suter of the Guild will be in charge of decorations: the upstairs parish hall; Mrs. Freeman from the Evening Branch will do the lower parish hall tea room decorations; Mrs. George Patterson will be in charge of table decorations while Mrs. F. C. Cantrill and Mrs. Robert Bailey will convene the stage arrangements.

Each church group is specializing in certain attractions. The Guild will sponsor three stalls; a delicatessen under the chairmanship of Mrs. R. F. Campbell; a treasure table convener by Mrs. R. E. Pritchard, and doll clothes and stuffed animals by Mrs. P. L. Wiseman.

The Senior W.A., also sponsoring three booths, will have Mrs. W. E. Giles in charge of a pretty selection of handsewn articles; Mrs. M. W. Forster, the white elephant stall, and Mrs. H. G. Garrioch, the homecooking.

The members of the Altar Guild plan to again have their table of surprise packages with articles for both children and adults.

A Country Fair booth made up of fresh vegetables, fruit, chickens and other farm produce will be sponsored by the Poplar Grove Branch to St. Saviour's W.A.

Junior Girls under the supervision of their superintendent Mrs. W. P. Bobbitt, will have a table of their own handicraft; the Girls' Auxiliary will feature a table of sachets and other items made by themselves, while the only boys' group participating in the bazaar, the Cubs, with their leader Mrs. H. Cumming, will once again have a homemade candy table. The Evening Branch W.A. will serve the tea throughout the afternoon hours.

'AT-A-BOY, GRANT!

BIG TEST FOR GRANT WARWICK and his Penticton Vees will come in successive home games tomorrow night and Friday, against Kimberley Dynamiters and Kelowna Packers. A clean sweep for "Knobby's" boys would start Vees on the uphill climb towards catching those fast-starting, unbeaten, Kamloops Elks—who, incidentally, make their first appearance here next Tuesday. Grant is looking for a win in that game, too, which would make it three straight for the World Champs.

Sports Retorts

BY JOHN YEOMANS

DEFENCE DITTIES

There'll be one great big sigh of relief when bouncin' Jack Durston gets back onto skates after his eye injury heals up. The way things stand right now Vees have one weakness—defence. The forwards are right in there scoring goals at a great pace; average of 5½ goals scored per game to date. But the club is being scored upon at a fairly high rate: average of over four goals per game is the tally so far.

And it's not as if Ivan McLelland were starting off the season in poor shape, either. He's playing his heart out trying to plug that hole while Durston's away.

Before sounding like an alarmist, though, we should state that Retorts doesn't by any means feel everything is black. We're simply pointing out one weakness in a team, a weakness made all the more noticeable by the great power of its forwards.

We feel that Hal Tarala and Jack Taggart are two of the top three or four defencemen in the league. With Durston back the Vees should be about on a par with Vernon in regard to defence... and those Canucks appear to have a mighty powerful squad of blueliners, this season.

Compared to last year, too, Vees are doing pretty well. After six games last season the club had won two, lost three and tied one—scoring 23 goals and having 26 scored against them.

So far this season; Vees have won two and lost three—scoring 28 goals and being scored upon 21 times...which is actually a superior record.

As we said before, the Vees never were fast starters.

LOSING STREAKS AND BABY ALLIGATORS

Interesting to note that the Vees' losing three games in a row last week ties a team record for most successive losses since (and including) the 1953-54 season.

Only once since the fall of 1953 have the Vees been downed three times in a row in their own league, and that was in early February of 1954.

Not that it is any mysterious indication of things to come, or anything like that, but it's also interesting to note that it was in the 1953-54 season that the Vees went on to win the Allan Cup.

In fact, after dropping those three games, they won 10 of their next 13 OSAHL fixtures to cop the Becker Cup, starting them on that fantastic road to the Dominion title.

Last year the worst losing "streak" by the Vees was two losses, followed by a tie and then another loss.

Just thought we'd mention this as a sort of warning to those who would count their baby alligators before they're hatched. Vernon and Kamloops are going great guns right now, but the Vees have had slower starts than the current one... and come back to rule the roost.

PUCKCHASING PEP-TALK

Now that that's off our chest, next thing is to look at the other side of the current hockey situation in this league of ours... to view the success that Kamloops Elks and Vernon Canadians are having.

Haven't seen the Elks in action as yet, but it's pretty clear that the OSAHL finally consists of more than one or two strong clubs. If their team spirit keeps up, Elks and Canadians are going to be right in there pitching all season... and this just might turn out to be the most successful OSAHL season on record.

The revival of the Elks under Key Conway, coupled with the continuing hockey power in Vernon and Penticton, is without a doubt the best thing that has happened to the league since Penticton took senior hockey to its bowels.

Let's face it. Things were pretty desperate up the line before this season started. Fan interest was dropping off dangerously, enthusiasm among players and executive was turning sour, and it began to look as if the prophets of "doom within a year or two" might turn out to be right.

Now everything looks bright again. Or at least a good deal brighter than last year. Only weak spot is Kelowna; but with three strong clubs drawing—a touch wood—healthy crowds to most of their games, the immediate danger to the league as a whole might be neatly nipped in the proverbial bud.

So... We repeat that we're not making any predictions yet—except that it looks like a very interesting hockey season ahead.

Vees Face Crucial Double Test Here Tomorrow, Friday

Bruins, Hawks Out In Front In Bantam League

Bruins and Black Hawks have taken an early lead in Penticton's Bantam Hockey League action. Last week Bruins blanked Maple Leafs 4-0, and Monday night made it two straight with a 4-1 win over Canadians.

Hawks fought to a 4-4 tie with Canadians last week, and on Monday pasted winless Red Wings 7-2, with Stiles picking up four goals for the winners.

In other Bantam action Monday, Maple Leafs nipped Rangers 3-2, giving each a won one, lost one record as Rangers defeated Wings last week.

Scorers for Bruins in their win over Canadians were Spaurer and Stallard in the first period, and Campbell and Pearson in the third. Strain notched the losers' goal in the third session. There were five penalties in all, three to the Canucks.

Aside from Stiles' quartette other scorers for Hawks in their big triumph over Wings were King, with two, and Wish. Teams played on even terms in the first and second periods. Hawks went ahead 3-2 by the end of the opener, and there was no score in the second. The winners pumped in four unanswered markers in the final frame.

There were nine penalties, five of them to Wings, though two of Hawks' trips to the sin bin came as a result of having too many men on the ice.

Donnelly was the big hero in Leafs' narrow win over Rangers as he scored all three of his team's goals, two in the second and one in the third periods.

Rangers' two tallies came near the end of the third session, as they almost pulled the game out of the fire. Of the game's three penalties, two went to the losers.

Dynamiters, Packers Invade Arena On Successive Nights

There'll be a hot time in the old arena tomorrow and Friday.

Penticton Vees face the crucial test of a vitally important pair of home games, played on successive nights... with the opposition to be provided by those cold-and-hot Kimberley Dynamiters, and Moe Young's desperate Kelowna Packers.

This all-important twin bill could well mark the turning point for the traditionally slow starting Vees—who clobbered Packers in their first two games of the season, then dropped their next three games in a row to fall to third place in the OSAHL standings.

Vees' coach Grant Warwick said today that he is determined to sweep both games, and thereby start on the tough road to overhauling the amazing Kamloops Elks... who have leaped into the lead over the rest of the oop by winning their first four games of the season.

STAGE SET FOR ELKS Winning both these fixtures at Memorial Arena would set the stage nicely for next Tuesday's battle of the giants... the most important game of the season so far, the first meeting on Penticton ice of the Elks and Vees.

But first things come first—which means these two home games. There'll be no quarter given or taken by the Vees tomorrow and Friday. They will simply be out to win, twice in a row. Fans are reminded that the Kimberley game counts in the standings, as do all the WHL-OSAHL hookup fixtures.

Kimberley Dynamiters will sport quite an array of classy hockey talent, led by coach Norm Larson who last year took the club to the WHL championship and the B.C. finals. Defensively they are particularly strong, despite a poor start in their swings through the Okanagan.

FIVE REARGUARDS Dynamiters have five rearguards to draw from—Bill Jones, Joe Kershaw, Barry Craig, Gordon Andre and Ted Leboldia. And in goal is Earle Bapker, who has played some great hockey in his career.

Up front the Kimberley crew have Cal Hockey, Gerry Barre, Joe Krekiewicz, Buzz Mellor, Norm Knippleburg, Claude Bell, Ray McNeven, coach Norm Larson and Ken McTeer.

All these won't necessarily be playing here tomorrow night, but they're all on tap—and Penticton fans can rest assured that Larson will ice his most potent combination of players for his meeting with the World Champs.

Kelowna Packers are expected to be considerably stronger than when they were thrashed 10-2

Legion, Rotary Win In Midget League Openers

In one of the closest Midget Hockey League games seen for some time, Rotary nipped Flyers 2-1 this week. Richards scoring the winning tally with just 44 seconds remaining in the game.

In the other Midget fixture, Legion whipped Hiballers 5-2. Both were the first league games of the 1955-56 season.

In the Flyers-Rotary joust, the losers went ahead in the second period with a goal by Overend, after the teams played scoreless hockey in the opener.

Lund tied it all up at 15:40 of the last period with Flyers a man short, and Richards golfed in the winner in the exciting game about four minutes later as Rotary finished strongly. Of three penalties, two went to the losers.

In the other game Balfour and Tomlin picked up two each and Hale a singleton for the winners, while O'Connell and Sato tallied for Hiballers. Legion's Hatfield picked up three assists.

There was just one penalty all 60 minutes.

Packers' Weakness In Goal Plugged By New Netminder

It looks like Kelowna's sad Packers have finally found themselves a goaltender.

The Kelowna Hockey Club announced Monday that they had purchased the services of 23-year-old Dave Gatherum—property of Detroit Red Wings and player for New Westminster Royals part of last season and for a few games this fall.

Gatherum is rated as one of the better goalies in the long Detroit hockey chain, though he has been slowed down considerably in his rise to prophesied fame by a severe leg injury last season.

The young netminder will show his stuff in Penticton this Friday, when Packers play their third game of the season against the Vees.

Spare goalie Dave McLay will fly over from Kimberley to replace him for the remaining two games.

First Period — (No scoring). Penalties: Helndi, Leboldia, La-vell (2), Kershaw.

Second Period — 1, Vernon, Harms (Lowe, Steacy) 8:34; 2, Vernon, Agar (unassisted) 15:41; 3, Kimberley, Knippleburg (Craig, Krekiewicz) 18:11; 4, Kimberley, Miller (Bell, Hockey) 18:58. Penalties: Leboldia, Lavell, Schmidt.

Third Period — 5, Vernon, Agar (Blair, Trentini) 3:51; 6, Vernon, Agar (unassisted) 5:37; 7, Kimberley, Krekiewicz (Knippleburg) 12:24; 8, Vernon, Hart (Lowe, Harms) 12:39. Penalties: Leboldia, Hart, Kershaw, Blair, Agar, Leboldia, Krekiewicz.

Senior "B" And "C"

Two Men's Basketball Teams To Rep Penticton

Penticton will definitely have two senior men's basketball teams this winter, as well as their defending Interior Senior "B" Ladies' Champions, the Ken-cos. This was decided at a meeting of the Penticton Basketball Association last night—a meeting not described as a great success, but nevertheless sufficiently promising to warrant going ahead with the FBA's small expansion program.

The two senior men's entries into valley competition will be of Senior "B" and Senior "C" classification. The "B" entry will be called Cranna's Omegas, as it was last season. The new "C" entry is as yet unnamed and unsponsored.

Last time Penticton had a Senior "C" cage team, it went all the way to the B.C. title. This was some seven or eight years ago.

BANTAM ENTRY

Last night's meeting also decided to enter a Bantam boys' team into the southern Okanagan loop, including this city, Summerland and Kelowna. The northern loop includes Vernon, Revelstoke and Kamloops, and the champion of the two leagues will meet in the spring to decide the interior champion—the winner to play the coast champion for the B.C. title.

The PBA meeting did not elect a slate of officers for the season, though three executive members were chosen to carry on the group's work, with the probability of two more joining them. The three are Miriam Dennis, Dennis Jeffery and Burt White. The two who may join soon are Eric Boulton and Ron Dow.

NOVEMBER 26 OPENER

Immediate plans call for a big season opener on November 26, featuring the two top men's and women's teams from Penticton and Vernon. This big basketball date it is hoped will be of enough fan appeal to draw a large crowd, and help the PBA repay its small debts right at the start of the season.

Soon after that, possibly on the 28th of this month, there is another basketball date in the wind, this time involving the famed Negro Clowns—the men Ghosts and women Chiles.

This comical but classy group drew last season's biggest crowd in Penticton, and if they return are expected to draw even better.

Osoyoos' Withdrawal From OSL Leaves Kamloops, Penticton, Armstrong Tied

Though the Osoyoos Soccer Club has withdrawn from Okanagan Soccer League action, there's still no official word from the league as to whether all its past and future unplayed games will be automatically awarded to the teams it was supposed to play.

Besides missing four of its eight games, the Osoyoos had lost three games and tied one with Vernon so far. The feeling in Penticton is that all Osoyoos' unplayed games will be awarded to the opposition, with Vernon keeping its one point derived from their tie game.

Should this solution to the problem be adopted, league standings as they are today would be as follows—including the automatic wins over Osoyoos by Armstrong, Kelowna (2) and Kamloops:

	P	W	L	T	Pt.
Penticton	8	6	2	0	12
Armstrong	8	6	2	0	12
Kamloops	8	6	2	0	12
Kelowna	8	4	4	0	8
Vernon	8	1	6	1	3
Osoyoos	8	0	7	1	1

Kamloops Out To Extend Win Streak

Kamloops Elks will be out to extend their startling unbeaten streak even further tonight, when they tackle Spokane Flyers at the U.S. city in the first game of the first swing through the WIHL this season of an OSAHL club.

Elks have won their first four league games, and could conceivably return to the Okanagan this weekend—after playing all four Kootenay clubs—with eight straight wins under their belts, judging by their resounding 11-4 victory over Kimberley Dynamiters at Kamloops on Monday night.

Dynamiters are considered one of the strongest WIHL clubs.

Vees' Ex-Rearguard George McAvoy Now Member Of Rhode Isl. "Reds"

Penticton Vees' great defenceman George McAvoy, who was signed by the Montreal Canadiens after the Vees won the World Championship, will be playing his hockey this winter at Providence, Rhode Island, U.S.A. It had been assumed previously that George would play with Montreal Royals of the Quebec loop this season, where he would be close to the parent Canadiens. Following is a story from Providence telling of how McAvoy ended up there this fall.

PROVIDENCE, R.I. — George McAvoy, an outstanding player on the world championship Penticton hockey team of Canada, reported to the RI Reds in Providence. In one of the most opportune moves ever made in the 30-year history of the Reds, General Manager Terry Reardon signed McAvoy to a 1955-56 American Hockey League contract after the two met in a hotel in Montreal.

Coming at a time when the Reds have been searching everywhere for defensive help, McAvoy gives the Jack Crawford forces a 24-year-old defenceman who is known for his ability to play the back-line exceptionally well.

Reardon was beaming all over when he arrived back home from Montreal. "I had my fingers crossed when I headed to Canada to talk to McAvoy," Terry said. "I hoped I could prevail on George to come to Providence and it turned out that way. This is by far my greatest personal triumph in two years as general manager of the Reds," Reardon added.

And modest Terry was not giving himself a pat on the back without reason. McAvoy is only 24 years old, stands 6'2" and weighs 185 pounds. Owner Lou Pieri said last night that the coming of McAvoy may herald the beginning of the development of a hockey power in Providence, similar to our team which whipped everything in sight back in 1948-49.

Pieri went on to point out that "Bob Robertson will soon be recovered from his knee injury. And we are hot on the trail of another defenceman from a major club. If we get this player to go along with McAvoy and Robertson, we are going to be tough to beat."

CRAWFORD DELIGHTED

Coach Crawford, a defenceman for 12 years with the Boston Bruins, was excitedly happy over the addition of McAvoy. "He is a good hockey player and should be a star in the American Hockey League," Jack remarked. Then he added with a grin: "If we keep picking up these good hockey players, rival teams won't notice us banding together a formidable array. Then we'll just sneak up on all of them."

McAvoy actually has been the property of the Reds for the last two seasons although he has never donned a Providence uniform. In a nutshell, here is the story of McAvoy and his relationship with the Reds:

Two seasons ago, the Reds sold goalie Bobby Porreault to the Montreal Canadiens for cash and a player. The player was George McAvoy, who at that time was a young defenceman still developing in the amateur ranks.

When training camp of the Rhode Island Reds started a year ago in Providence, McAvoy was sent orders to report but he decided to stay at home in Penticton, which is in British Columbia. Under hockey rules, the Providence Hockey Club had to suspend McAvoy.

After the season got started, owner Pieri received a telephone call from Billy Warwick, former Providence player. He and his brother were coaching the Penticton Vees and wanted permission to use McAvoy. Pieri agreed to lift the suspension.

McAvoy turned out to be the captain and a star on the Penticton team which defeated Russia in the world hockey championships. George was so impressive that the Montreal Canadiens needed help during the Stanley Cup playoffs last year and they asked Providence for the right to use McAvoy. He played against Boston and Detroit in the NHL playoffs.

When training camp rolled around this September, McAvoy went to the Montreal camp. When it was over the Canadiens wanted McAvoy to play with the Montreal Royals, a Canuck farm club in the Quebec Pro Hockey League. The Canadiens wanted McAvoy close at hand so that he could step into the National League at a moment's notice.

But Reardon and Pieri balked at this and demanded that McAvoy come to Providence. At that point, George went home to British Columbia. A few days ago, he came back to Montreal and yesterday Reardon cornered him. This time, McAvoy's answer to Terry's big question in case you are interested was: "Do you want to play for the Rhode Island Reds?"

Internationally Known Church Leaders In City Pulpit Friday

Internationally known church leaders will speak in Penticton United Church, this Friday. One of the series in the nation wide stewardship rallies is being held in Penticton. The speakers will be the heads of the Churches' missionary and maintenance department, Dr. H. E. D. Ashford, and Dr. Winnifred Bryce, famed educator of India.

Mrs. Bryce is the former Winnifred Robinson, daughter of Rev. J. Cooper Robinson, the first foreign Missionary of the Church of England in Canada to Japan. She was born in Tokyo.

Dr. Bryce has given full-time service as a missionary. In the earlier years she devoted herself energetically to village work and home life, and more recently to the problems of the city. For six years she was secretary of the National Christian Council of India. For many years she has been on the staff of the Indore Christian College, Indore.

Mrs. Bryce has been recognized throughout India as an expert in the production of Christian Literature, and is the author of several books herself.

Dr. Herb Ashford is one of the truly dynamic ministers of the church. He started out as a missionary in India and in 1933 came home on furlough. Before he was ready to return the depression had closed its hand on the purse strings of the church, and mission work had to be curtailed. There was not enough money to send the Ashfords back to their work. He never forgot that experience, and threw himself with zeal into the strengthening of the churches' service work at home. In Manitoba, Calgary, British Columbia and finally as RCAF chaplain, he continued to make his dramatic impression on the life of the nation.

Funeral Saturday For Adam Felker

A former resident of Summerland, Adam Felker, passed away at Rock Creek yesterday.

He is survived by his wife, four sons, Edwin, Harold, Robert and Anthony, all of Summerland, one daughter, Gerda, of Ponoka, Alberta.

Funeral services will be held on Saturday at 2 p.m. from St. John's Lutheran Church, West Summerland, Reverend A. L. Galt officiating with interment in the family plot, Peach Orchard Cemetery.

no turning back. The commissioner preached on "Fruitfulness." He remarked, "that while Canada was a wonderful country, he was grieved by the lack of real revival. He said, 'I understand that the Okanagan has never been stirred by the moving of the Spirit of God,' and he then asked the question, 'what is wrong with our churches?'"

Restaurant Group Is Re-Organized

KELOWNA — Okanagan branch of the Canadian Restaurant Association has been re-organized.

And just to make sure the valley association got away to a good start, top-ranking officials in the restaurant business attended the meeting, held Sunday night in the Royal Anne Hotel. Heading the list of distinguished visitors was Sven Erickson, of Lethbridge, president of the national association. Mr. Erickson is completing a 45,000 mile tour of United States and Canada on behalf of the CRA.

Eric Loken, of Kelowna, was unanimously chosen president, while Evans Loughheed, Penticton, was named vice-president and Mrs. Doug Anderson, Kelowna, secretary. Directors are Tom Middleton, Salmon Arm; Dave Millns, Kelowna; John Dedora, Vernon; Richard Smith, Osoyoos; and Miss Alice Mann, Vernon. Wen Silbernagel, of Kelowna, a past president, is automatically on the executive.

Guest speaker Sven Erickson stressed the need of sales promotion in the restaurant business, and he suggested Okanagan cafe proprietors feature special dinners in order to encourage more people to eat out.

"It's a question of merchandising," he said, referring to the nation-wide publicity Knott's Berry Farm in Los Angeles has received. In the Okanagan, he suggested restaurants feature apple juice, the same as California features orange juice. "Don't just sell beef stew, but feature a special type of stew," he remarked.

Mr. Erickson said the Canadian Restaurant Association has no right to assume the role of a policeman, but "fortunately we have the right to approve good eating establishments," he said. Mr. Erickson said that while he did not want to see a monopoly in the restaurant trade, he felt that new operators should reach certain standards before being allowed to run a cafe. "This would overcome a great deal of criticism from the public," he said. Majority of restaurant proprietors are doing a good job, but it's the small percentage that is letting the trade down, he said.

Mr. Erickson remarked that garages, for instance, demand expert mechanics, "... and yet there are no regulations governing the handling of food for human consumption.

"It seems ridiculous, but it's a fact that some restaurant help do not know the difference between pork, beef or lamb," adding that the "little operator" who gets the most benefit from CRA invariably is not present at meetings.

Cleanliness, a cheery smile, good service and good food are the main requisites in a successful restaurant business, he said.

NEW SET UP FOR HIGHWAY ENGINEERS

The Provincial Department of Public Works has moved to decentralize operations of the highway engineers' branch. Instead of headquarters at Victoria there will be four regional offices located at Kamloops, Nelson, Prince George and Victoria.

The position of assistant deputy engineer is being disbanded and four regional highway engineers are sought to head departments in the four centres selected for each area.

Applications for the positions are being accepted by the Chairman, Civil Service Commission, Victoria, until November 9.

Duties include responsibility for the administration and co-ordination of activities in the region, direction of a staff consisting of a construction engineer, maintenance engineer, district engineers and their engineering staffs, liaison between the regional staff and headquarters in the operation, construction bridges and ferries and recommendation for major construction projects.

Among the necessary qualifications are a university degree in engineering and proven experience in construction and maintenance of highways.

Trustees For School Area 16 Are Named

An attendance area meeting of school board officials of Kere-meos School District, No. 16, was held at Hedley last night.

Two new trustees were selected, R. MacKenzie and H. Fenton, both of Hedley.

They replace Al McInnes and Freeman Crowther, who served on the board for many years. Mr. McInnes is leaving the district and Mr. Crowther works at Allenby, making it inconvenient for him to attend board meetings.

Mr. McInnes gave the board's report and expressed regret that it was necessary to close Nickle Plate School. He noted the two-room addition to the Cawston school.

Mr. McInnes told the meeting some modifications will be necessary in the school bus transportation in order to meet provincial regulations.

R. Sheridan, secretary-treasurer, gave the financial report.

Facts About Cancer

Catalogues are wonderful things, and the new one from the National Film Board of Canada is no exception.

Reading the titles of films available to communities throughout Canada takes one through the excitement of travel, the pastoral pleasures of agriculture, the thrill of out-door sports and the delight of watching wild animals at play.

It brings to mind, too, the problems and achievements of this modern age ... the realm of world politics, the fight against disease, the social problems of a vast country like Canada and the tremendous feats of post-war industry.

Here are some of the titles: Germany — Key to Europe, and Thunder in the East, both from the Canada Carries On series.

Flying Skis and Great Northern Tackle-Busters, Skeent River Trapline, Spring on a Quebec Farm, Angoee, the story of an Eskimo boy, Beaver People, The Mountain Movers, The Story of Oil, The Homeless Ones, which tells of people coping with the after-effects of an atom blast; Breakdown, the story of a mental upset, and Challenge: Science Against Cancer.

They all tell a gripping story of modern life, and they can be obtained from community or provincial film libraries or, if these are not available, in your neighborhood, from the Canadian Film Institute, 142 Sparks Street, Ottawa, 4, Ontario. Service charges are nominal.

Any group wishing to gain an insight into the complexities of the fight against cancer, which will claim an estimated 19,000 lives in Canada this year, should see the National Film Board film on the subject.

It comes in three lengths, 36

Cannery Workers' Support Sought

KELOWNA — Cannery workers will be entitled to participate in a million and a half dollar strike fund without contributing any money until August 1, 1956.

This was announced following a meeting of United Packinghouse Workers (CCL) here Sunday. Delegates from five plants of the Canadian (Western) Canneries Ltd., Mission, Ashcroft, Penticton, Kelowna and Vancouver, representing over 1,000 workers, attended the conference.

William Symington, International representative of the Union in B.C. in announcing the new policy of the UPWA in setting up the strike fund, stated that open meetings would be held throughout B.C. giving workers an opportunity to join the union if they so desire.

Mr. Symington stated the union was not out to create any disturbance, but rather to give packinghouse workers a free and open opportunity to join the union.

The union organizer denied that wage demands were discussed at the parley, although it was learned from another source that the union is considering negotiations for upping present basic rates of $1.24 for laborers and minutes, 21 minutes, and 11 minutes. The shortest film is entitled "The Outlaw Within".

The B.C. Division, Canadian Cancer Society, also makes available films on the problem of cancer and how to guard against it. They can be obtained by writing to 686 West Tenth Avenue, Vancouver 9, B.C.

A showing of one of these films combined with one from the excellent and varied selections of the National Film Board would provide a most interesting and entertaining evening from many community clubs.

89 cents to $1.02 hourly for women.

WOULD AMEND CONTRACT
Purpose of the conference, Symington said, was to discuss contractual amendments on matter of wages, improvements in working conditions, statutory holidays, vacations with pay and shorter working hours.

Among those attending the parley were Jack McGinnis, president and Ted Shorrock, vice-president, local 350 Vancouver; William Lynch, Penticton, fieldman and A. McNroy, representing the Kelowna local of the UPWA.

BIBLE RALLY HELD

SUMMERLAND — The annual rally of the British and Foreign Bible Society on Friday evening was addressed by Rev. Raymond Tingley in the Pentecostal Church. Mr. Tingley is the western secretary of the society. While in Summerland he visited his cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Tingley and Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Tingley.

LOS ANGELES, (UP) — Why not shed a tear for science?

If you do shed the tear, save it and send it to Dr. Robert Brunish of the University of California Medical Center here. He needs the tears for research.

Dr. Brunish is studying the chemical structure of tears as a possible clue to the elusive eye irritant in smog and to learn something of other factors involved in shedding tears.

Penticton felt its coldest temperature of the season last night, when mercury touched 24.4 degrees around midnight. It warmed up later when snow clouds blew in.

PLAY WELL RECEIVED

SUMMERLAND — The Holiday Theatre play, Mr. Timekiller, was well attended and enjoyed by children and adults. The second act particularly seemed to hold the audience in suspense. All costuming was considered excellent.

HALLOWEEN DAMAGE

Only bit of damage by fire as a result of Halloween pranks in Penticton was a small hole burned in the roof of the home of Mrs. Kenyon, 189 Wade Ave. W., caused by a thrown firecracker. Damage was about $25, reports city fire hall.

STUDENTS' JOKES

Take the plight of the school bus driver. As I got the story, a new man went on the run picking up youngsters from Skaha Lake area. He got directions from Walt Skermer, "the pick-up route is so-and-so," Walt told him, "then you deposit the load at Carmi avenue school."

The driver went on his way but when he swung off Main and onto Carmi, the kid dies in unison cried, "oh, Mr. Driver, we go to the school on Jernyn." So, the man at the wheel turned back onto Main and up to the "huts". When he pulled to a stop there was a roar of laughter from every kid aboard. Sure, they all belonged to Carmi, the rascals.

DRIVER'S LICENCE

Woman with a gripe — a resident of Meadow Valley, 10 miles out of Summerland, she wished to get a driver's licence. In Summerland the police advised her to try Penticton. Down here they sent her on to Oliver where she passed a written test 100 percent and was given a permit. But she was told she couldn't get her driver's licence because the test driver was in Grand Forks, and would she come back some other time, possibly during the winter months? Well, she decided to go to Kelowna, total of 170 miles

ABOUT WHALE MEAT

Letter from a Penticton woman reads: "Read your column and was interested in your report about the whale dinner. A friend of mine in Victoria used whale meat a great deal after the war and found it tender and very much like steak. Offered me some but I declined. Perhaps these friends pawned an old tough one on Dr. Gibson. They say the old ones leave the rest or are left by the others to fend for themselves until they die. Regardless, whale steak no matter how tender does not sound very appetizing."

REUNION

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Palmer, Van Horne Street, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary October 11. That was a pleasing day for the couple as friends called round to congratulate them. Next day they had a pleasant surprise, too. A couple from Manitoulin Islands, where the Palmers came from, were holidaying and on their way to Vancouver. They stopped in Penticton overnight and bought a Herald. There was the picture of the Palmers on the women's page so next day old friendship was renewed. The couples had lost track of one another after years of friendship commencing "way" back when they lived across the road in the Manitoulin. Had the friends not bought a Herald there'd have been no reunion.

AUSSIE APPLES

Scene: A Penticton restaurant. Customer: "Cup of java and a piece of apple pie, please. Waiter: "Right away, sir." The customer starts to eat, then, "this pie is good but it tastes sort of funny, lacks something, dash of cloves maybe. Not like local apples. Waiter: "Oh, they're not. You're eating Australian canned apples. The fellow who baked this pie bought cases of them in Vancouver." This should happen in the Okanagan?

OUR JOKE

A bickering type of woman who was at her worst in the morning kept nagging away at her husband. She said, "you're always talking about my dog, my daughter, my everything. Why don't you say our once in a while?" No reply from hubby who seemed to be looking around for something. Finally she said, "well, what are you looking for?" Came the reply, "our trousers."

MAIN STREET BECAME A BRIGHTER, SAFER PLACE when the city switched on new overhanging street lights at Wade, Nanaimo and Westminster intersections, and simultaneously put traffic lights into operation at Wade and Westminster corners. A comparison of light intensity can be seen in the illumination of the corner light with that of the old type midway down the street. Light streaks are caused by passing cars.

TOPIC OF TALK TO KIWANIS WELCOME FOR NEW CANADIANS

In an address to the Penticton Kiwanis Club yesterday in the Hotel Prince Charles, Dr. W. J. Black, liaison officer for the Canadian Government Citizenship and Immigration Department, appealed to all community organizations to do their utmost to make new Canadians, or Canadians-to-be, as welcome as possible to their new country, as soon as they arrive in their new home.

Dr. Black started out by saying that it is an established fact that Canada needs many more people. A population of at least 40 or 50 millions is needed in this country for two broad reasons.

Firstly, Canadians are "trustees" of this land and cannot now justify its scant population. Secondly, it is economically desirable to have a population some three times the present one. "We would be far better off financially with 50 million people," said the speaker.

WELCOME NEWCOMERS

Dr. Black stressed that what is now important is for the people of Canada to become a good deal more aware of the need for

FERTILIZERS FOR FRUIT TREES IN B.C.

How much fertilizer should fruit growers use on their trees and what kind of fertilizer should they buy?

There are many fertilizers on the market from which to choose. A good one for an orchard is one that will supply the nutrients that are lacking. Experiments at the Summerland, B.C. Experimental Farm, Canada Department of Agriculture, reported by J. L. Mason show that for as long as twenty years no deficiency of potash or phosphate has been found in the interior of British Columbia. These two elements are apparently plentiful enough in the soil to be adequate for trees and no additions are needed. Nitrogen, however, is needed. This simplifies the choice of fertilizer and involves only straight nitrogen fertilizers such as ammonium nitrate or ammonium sulphate.

How much nitrogen fertilizer to use is not too easy a question to answer. Most orchards require a moderate amount and the guide should be the amount of growth in the trees. About ten to twelve inches of terminal growth is right for apples, and about eighteen inches for peaches. There is a reduction of fruit quality as the level of nitrogen is increased and growers are advised to avoid using too much nitrogen.

STARVE THOSE GERMS THAT CAUSE DECAY

"Swarms of living bacteria floating around in my mouth! What do you mean?"

It's a common reaction when patients are told of the bacteria of the mouth, some of which produce acids that lead to destruction of teeth.

Most people know a little about bacteria, but usually associate them with pneumonia, diphtheria and other like diseases.

There are many thousands of bacteria of different kinds in the normal mouth, and elsewhere in the body, for the most part performing a valuable duty. But the type we are mostly concerned with is the one with the formidable name of Lactobacillus Acidophilus. As the name suggests, it is a rod-shaped germ that forms a certain kind of acid, and it is present in varying amounts in practically every human mouth.

Select and use our food according to the advice given by our Department of Health, and these tooth-destroying germs will starve — die off until only a very few are left in the mouth. But feed them, many times a day, with highly refined starches and sugars, such as white flour products, pastries, candies, etc., and they will thrive, multiplying at a fantastic rate. Deposits of sticky, plasty food matter gather in crevices and hidden spots, providing food and a natural home for the germs. Acid forms, enamel is penetrated, and a cavity starts growing within the enamel shell of the tooth.

So why not starve the pests? How? Just follow a few simple and easy rules.

From a public health nurse or other public health official or office, secure information on the selection, preparation and use of good food, and follow the suggestions given.

Eat only at meal times, and brush off food deposits immediately after eating.

Avoid those frequent snacks, and nibbles at pastries, candies, confections and soft drinks between meals. "Am" "ir" "arids," "mug" "be-sen, serve them after a regular meal, followed by a vigorous session with the brush.

The result? A gradual but steady lessening in the number of Lactobacilli in your mouth, and, just as surely, the end of new cavity formation.

Is it worth while? That's for you to say.

NEWS SPOTLIGHT

Specially Written for The Herald
By HARRY ECCLES

Canadian Press Staff Writer
Observers of the Big Four foreign ministers' meeting at Geneva estimate there is little prospect that in the present meetings they will be able to begin seriously resolving their differences on the vital issues of German unity and European security.

The conference by last week-end had developed a stalemate which led some diplomats to say it is impossible to believe that practical negotiations can be undertaken in the near future.

An Associated Press correspondent saw the opposing strategies shaping up like this:
1. The western powers believe they may eventually persuade Russia to accept German reunification on western terms if they apply firm and patient pressure over several years. They reason that Russia needs a period of peace and international goodwill, and that the Russians will, if necessary, pay a considerable price for it.

2. Russia for months has been maneuvering to obtain a truce in the cold war in order to relax world tensions, put the western powers off guard, weaken the North Atlantic alliance and concentrate on its own internal economic problems. Having achieved considerable relaxation of tension, especially since last July's "summit conference," Russia's tactics now are to hold what it has gained without giving up any territory or position of great value.

EGYPT ISRAEL TENSION
The United States and Britain are reported to have agreed on policies to prevent the spread of Soviet influence in the Middle East. Diplomatic sources say Britain and the U.S. want to maintain the balance of power between Israel and its Arab neighbors, and try to weaken efforts by an Egyptian bloc to bargain with the Communist states for arms and economic aid.

Israel and Egypt last week exchanged charges of new troop violations of the tense El Ajia demilitarized border zone which UN truce officials strove to neutralize a month ago. Israel officials said about 300 Egyptian troops penetrated Israeli territory about 45 miles south of Gaza.

The Israelis said they themselves set up an outpost in the zone in retaliation for the alleged Egyptian incursion.

Israel charged that Egypt had set up strong points in the zone along the El Ajia-Nizana border "in disregard of the armistice agreement and of promises made by Egypt" to Canada's Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, chief of the UN truce observers. Egyptian officials in Cairo claimed the Israeli troops had reoccupied a position in the zone, partly on Egyptian territory.

In one clash last week, the Israelis said 10 Egyptian soldiers were killed and 20 captured. Egypt said four Egyptians and four Israelis were killed, after which the Israeli force was driven off.

At UN headquarters in New York, Egyptian foreign minister Mahmoud Fawzi, referring to Egypt's recent cotton-for-guns deal, with Czechoslovakia, said Egypt was getting the arms only for defence.

CARETAKER FOR SAAR
Heinrich Welsch, a 67-year-old railroad man, at Saarbrücken last week was named caretaker premier of the Saar, 726 square miles of land rich in coal and steel mills which nestles between France and Germany.

The Saarlanders, pre-dominantly German-speaking, held a plebiscite October 23 on whether to make their country a neutral state under control of the Western European Union. The vote was 2 to 1 against, the Saarlanders in effect saying they would prefer to throw in their lot with Germany, as they did once before in Hitler's day. Since the war the Saar has been under French supervision.

Welsch succeeds pro-French Johannes Hoffman, who resigned as premier after the plebiscite. Welsch will be in charge of the government until new elections are held December 18.

Necessities Should Be Organized

When the handbag of a career gal comes up for discussion, the question is: Is it a handbag or a litterbag? Any business gal (left) worth her typewriter ribbon can dump an appalling mess of stuff out of her handbag. First step is to throw out the old.

street-car transfers and whatnot. Then, coordinate the necessities (centre) in matching, durable leather containers. Convenient for the carrier of a big handbag (right), is a small clutch bag for easy access to cash, carried inside big one.

BY ALICIA HART

In the department of disorganized interiors, the insides of most career gals' tote bags take the prize. There isn't a working woman who doesn't have some useless clutter in her overgrown handbag and, in many cases, there's such a conglomeration of clutter that the necessities are hopelessly hidden.

Here's a list of a few of the things found in the pile formed when several working women dumped the contents of their handbags on a desk:

A picture book, an unset amethyst, a broken earring, 50 bobby pins, an outdated appointment book, an empty perfume bottle, an ancient love letter, a fortune slip from a Chinese cookie, a shoe buttonhook, a rapid transit transfer from another city, a stocking, five buttons, a half piece of chewing gum, a ball of wool and a two-week-old marketing list.

This, plus keys of unknown origin, crumpled cigaret packages, tattered drivers' licenses, loose change, broken combs and empty lipstick cases, constituted the goods these women carried about each day.

The first step in organizing a big handbag is to throw out the obviously useless clutter. The possibly useful items, such as buttons and phone bill receipts, should be filed where they may be needed.

The real everyday necessities that have a logical place in a handbag should be organized. Many women who carry big bags because they need the space find that a French clutch purse is a big help. It's about the size of a change purse, but has several sections; one for coins, another for charge plates, driver's license and a space that opens out for bills.

This kind of a purse-within-a-purse makes it possible to get out change for the bus without rummaging in the bottom of the big handbag. It's easy to get out in a hurry.

The further necessities can be housed in matching leather containers. They're durable and can be bought to match, which is a big help to the appearance of the interior of the tote. A cigaret case is important to keep crumbs of tobacco out of the handbag and to keep cigarettes from crushing. A matching leather-covered lighter eliminates the bunches of matchbooks from the handbag. A key case makes the needed keys easy to find by sense of feel. An eyeglasses case keeps glasses from getting dirty and scratched.

All of these very practical, but handsome, accessories can be had in a variety of leathers. Most of them are smooth, but some come in lizard and other reptile leathers. Some are hand tooled in Oriental and other exotic patterns to make them dressy. Others have bright gold touches.

Pork And Apples Offer Fine Winter Eating

With pork plentiful and the new apple crop coming to market, some fine winter eating is in store.

Use apples, for instance, to stuff pork chops. — an all-American favorite. You will need 6 pork chops, cut about 1-inch thick; 1½ cups cubed, pared apple; 2 tablespoons grated orange peel; salt; pepper; cinnamon and flour.

Cut a pocket in each chop. Combine the cubed, pared apple with the orange peel; season the fruit lightly with salt, pepper and cinnamon. Fill the pocket in the chops and close with metal skewers or wooden picks. Sprinkle with salt and pepper, dredge with flour. Heat a heavy frying pan, add the chops and brown lightly on both sides in their own fat.

Pour off the excess fat, cover and cook the chops over low heat 45 to 50 minutes, or until the chops are browned and cooked through. Or, you can bake in a moderate oven 1 hour (a little longer for large chops).

Remove skewers, place on warm platter, and garnish with fresh tomato slices or chutney. Yield, 6 servings.

The MATURE PARENT

It's Nonsense To Pretend We Are Child's Contemporary

When her son was a small boy, he started to call her "Gertie". And she, imagining herself modern, delightedly encouraged it.

Later, after her divorce, she found other ways to deny the age difference between herself and her son. When gray appeared in her sleek black hair, she routed it by getting it dyed. She learned how to spend an hour in facial make-up. She went in for "health foods" guaranteed to forestall middle-age. She cultivated a girlish laughter with which to greet the witticisms of her son and his admiring young male friends.

He never made any female friends. Sooner or later, any healthy girl his own age gave up trying to decide what he and Gertie wanted to be to one another — and walked out of their lives.

Self-respecting girls found they couldn't tolerate the confusion created by a mother who didn't want to be a mother.

They just couldn't put up with the sound of that lilting, jealous, middle-aged voice saying, "What you young people must seek are finer things than sex and marriage. Every religion teaches us, you know that sex is a waste of our creative energies."

The woman who denied age difference from her child destroyed him. Today, he is an alcoholic, his creative energies wasted on something else.

No, I do not like our modish custom of encouraging children to call us by our first names.

I do not mean to imply that all parents who encourage it are moved by Gertie's destructiveness. I mean that it's a sentimental and unrealistic custom.

In America, we're all a little to quick to other people's first names. No parent can be his child's contemporary. It's sticky nonsense to pretend that we can. No matter how you love your child, the difference in your ages will always make his needs different from yours. No matter how I love mine, the block of time between us denies us intimacy on equal terms.

It's pretty childish of us. We do not make a friend out of an acquaintance by slapping him on the back and calling him "Bill, old, old boy." Friends are not got that way. Our eagerness to pretend they are is made of the same stuff as our eagerness for children to call us by our first names.

It is wholesome to accept this reality. It is healthy to teach children to acknowledge our difference in generation, experience

The Recipe Corner

Salmon Spaghetti is a hearty, man-sized dish. Zesty too, for it combines spaghetti, salmon, Canadian cheddar cheese and salmon, milk and seasonings. Mixed together quickly it's topped with buttered crumbs before it's put into the oven to bubble and brown, and to blend those foods together until they reach the point . . . in just 30 minutes.

SALMON CHEESE CASSEROLE

(Makes 4 servings).
4 slices white bread
1/4 cup minced onion
3 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon pepper
1 cup evaporated milk
1/2 cup water
1 (7½ ounce) can salmon, flaked
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1/2 cup grated Canadian cheddar cheese.

Cut bread slices in quarters. Place half the bread quarters side by side in the bottom of a buttered 1½ quart size casserole. Cook onion until tender. In butter in top of double boiler over direct heat. Add flour and seasonings, blend well. Gradually add evaporated milk and water. Cook over boiling water until thickened and smooth, stirring constantly. Add salmon and lemon juice to sauce. Remove from heat and pour over bread quarters in casserole. Sprinkle with cheddar cheese and top with remaining bread quarters, lightly buttered. If desired, Bake in a moderate oven (375°F.) for 30 minutes. Serve immediately.

Our puffy Salmon Fondue takes a longer baking time, but it's worth every minute of it. The fondue is a mixture of bread cubes, butter, eggs and cheese, cooked until it thickens, with salmon and stiffly beaten egg whites for the puff added. Oven-poached in a pan of hot water, it's a delicately textured dish with the subtlest of flavor blendings when you take it from the oven and serve it in all its glory at your table.

SALMON FONDUE

(Makes 4 to 5 servings)
5 slices bread
1 cup milk
2 tablespoons butter

3 eggs, separated
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup grated Canadian cheddar cheese
1 (7½ ounce) can salmon, flaked

Trim crusts from bread and cut bread into half inch cubes. Heat milk in top of double boiler. Add bread cubes, butter, liquid from salmon, beaten egg yolks and salt. Cook over boiling water until thickened, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and stir in cheese. Cool for 10 to 15 minutes. Add salmon. Beat egg whites until stiff and fold into mixture. Pour into a buttered 1½ quart size baking dish and place dish in a shallow pan of hot water. Bake in a moderate oven (350°F.) for 1 hour.

SALMON SPAGHETTI

(Makes 4 servings).
4 ounces spaghetti
6 slices slice bacon, diced
1/4 cup diced onion
1 (7½ ounce) can salmon, flaked
1 cup grated Canadian cheddar cheese
1/2 cup milk
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon pepper
1½ cups buttered bread crumbs
Break spaghetti sticks in three, then cook in boiling salted water until tender. Drain and rinse.

Cook bacon in frying pan, add onion and saute until tender. Add salmon, cheese, milk and seasonings to mixture in frying pan. Then stir in spaghetti. Mix well.

Delegates Press For Erosion Plan

VERNON — V. E. Ellison, O.Yama, president of the B.C. Federation of Agriculture, will head a delegation to interview the provincial cabinet in Victoria on November 8 with a request that the government lay down a policy, similar to the land clearing project, to handle the pressing problem of river bank erosion in B.C.

Other members of the delegation will be C. E. S. Walls, secretary of the federation, who carried out a survey of water erosion from Prince Rupert to Keremeos; James Woodward of Salmon Arm; A. Swenson of Ladner, vice-president of the federation; and Tom Groves, a civil engineer from Duncan, who has studied the erosion caused by the Cowichan River.

Mr. Ellison feels that the federation will be "neglecting its duty toward B.C. farmers if this matter is not brought to the attention of Victoria."

The government has no set policy for dealing with this problem, although some work has been done in dredging out new channels or returning rivers to their original beds.

It is hoped by the federation that the government will approve some such scheme as the land clearing policy by which farmers are able to pay for clearing on a yearly basis, with payments spread over a period of years.

On November 22 and 23, the B.C. Federation of Agriculture is holding its 22nd annual meeting in Vernon, the first time it has been held away from the coast. Mr. Ellison will be presiding.

Hon. James Gardiner, federal minister of agriculture, is coming from Ottawa to address the meeting which will be held in the Oddfellows' hall.

The federation represents 20,000 farmers in B.C., including dairymen, poultrymen, beef, vegetable and fruit growers.

B.C. Kinsmen Meet At Kelowna

KELOWNA — Kinsmen from various parts of the interior converged on Kelowna for the annual fall zone meeting. Chairman of the two-day parley was Ken Harding, deputy governor for Okanagan-Mainline.

Committee reports were submitted. Highlight of the conference was an address by district governor Ken McConnell, of Ladner. Also present from Ladner were Norm Gregory and Jack McKinnon. Mr. McConnell gave a comprehensive report on both district 5 and national affairs of the association. He recently returned from Windsor where he attended the national Kinsmen convention.

Stan Hove, of Vernon, director of the B.C. polo fund, disclosed that around $225,000 was collected in the "Mothers' March on Polo" last February.

Other business pertaining to Kinsmen affairs was discussed.

RECORD REVIEWS.

CONCERT MUSIC

NEW YORK.—(UP)—There no longer is any reason for being unfamiliar with the works of early French composers — or there won't be when the L'Oiseau-Lyre label gets through with its resurrections.

The latest are a solemnly beautiful Miserere in Motet form of Jean Baptiste Lully, who was considered heavenly in the court of Louis XIV; two suits for two violas with figured bass by Marin Marais, who had no little importance around the beginning of the 18th century; eight sonatas for flute and continuo by Jean-Marie Leclair, who came along after Marais, and a sextet and quintet of George Onslow who died in 1852.

All these works have the interest of unfamiliarity, and some of even more merit than that. They're all sensitively and tastefully played, and very correctly with the instruments and ensembles specified. To bring the representation of the French school up to date, London has issued a generous set of excerpts from the comic opera, "The School for Husbands" by Emmanuel Bondeville who is the present musical director of the Paris Opera. It's an entertainingly lively piece. The recording was made by the Opera-Comique.

OTHER FAVORITES

While with the French, let it be noted, too, that a group of Dutch artists under Willem Van Otterloo have recorded a brilliant performance of Franck's "Psyche," a splendid work for choir and orchestra which deserves much more attention than it usually gets (Epic). Also note that Charles Munch and the Boston Symphony have recorded Berlioz' Symphonie Fantastique and Ravel's Daphnis and Chloe with musical clarity and intensity and with sparkling high fidelity (RCA Victor).

Other orchestral recording favored by the reviewer—Hillemuth's Nobilissima Visione coupled with Brahms' Variations on a Theme of Haydn, played by the Philharmonia Orchestra under Klemperer (Angel); Elgar's Enigma Variations, Cockaigne Overture, and Serenade for String Orchestra, played by the Royal Philharmonic under Beecham (Columbia); Mozart's 39th symphony coupled with Haydn's 95th, played by the Glyndebourne Festival Orchestra under Gut (HMV); Grieg's two Peer Gynt suites and Blavet's two L'Arlésienne suites, played by the Philadelphia Orchestra under Ormandy (Columbia).

Also of exceptional interest: Kurt Weill's concerto for violin and wind orchestra, played by Anneli Aejmelind with players under Izler Solomon (MGM); Bruckner's strange quintet in F major played by the Koeckert Quartet and George Schind, viola (Decca).

The Week In Ottawa

Specially Written for The Herald

By ROY LAFERRE

Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Nov. 2 — (CP) —

Canada's Colombo Plan contributions likely will rise by about $5,000,000 next year to a little more than $31,000,000. The increase will provide part of the cost of helping India build her first major atomic reactor.

Authorities disclosed last week that Canada has agreed to pay one-half the costs of the $15,000,000 reactor, to be located on India's west coast near Bombay. India is to put up the other half.

Canadian-Indian agreement in principle to go ahead with the reactor was announced last month, but the initial announcement gave no indication of how costs were to be split.

Canada's contribution to the partnership of western powers and south and southeast Asian countries, to expand economic development in under-developed areas with western financial aid, was increased by $1,000,000 this year to $26,400,000. Opposition parties have demanded a much higher contribution as a means of aiding in blocking the spread of Communism in the east.

DESTRUCTIVE POWER

A competent defence official last week estimated that as few as 40 hydrogen bombs carried by 40 planes could obliterate the industrial potential and civilized order of either the United States or Russia.

Professor J. I. Jackson — a member of the directing staff of the RCAF staff college at Toronto — made the estimate in an article in the latest issue of "Current Affairs," a bimonthly pamphlet published by the defence department for the armed forces. The article is understood to reflect the views of many senior RCAF officers.

He writes: "Even if a defence could destroy 90 percent of an attacking force, a proportion incredible by Second World War standards, only 400 bombers would be required to have 40 reach their targets."

"Today perhaps as few as 40 hydrogen bombs could obliterate instantly not just the industrial potential but for all practical purposes the very civilized order of a major power such as Russia or the United States."

Professor Jackson did not attempt to compare the abilities of the western and Russian bomber forces or the defence system of the two sides.

But in Montreal last Thursday, Dr. O. M. Solandt, chairman of the defence research board, said Russia is overtaking the west in at least some fields of weapon development. He said peace will be jeopardized if the free world does not increase the number and quality of its scientists and engineers.

OUTLOOK ON TAXES

Reports of cuts in arms orders gave rise to the possibility of tax decreases in the next federal budget.

Federal outlay for arms is estimated to rise in the current fiscal year by $53,000,000 to $1,023,000, but orders placed for future delivery have declined.

From authoritative quarters it was learned the orders dropped to $340,000,000 in the first half of the current fiscal year from $455,000,000 in the same period a year ago. The experts said if this trend continues, as appears likely, the over-all drop for orders placed in the fiscal year may total more than $200,000,000.

Finance Minister Harris is not expected to announce his budget until next spring. The government's decision on tax cuts will depend on the country's economy and the federal need for revenue. But Mr. Harris is not most sure to aim at a balanced budget rather than the accumulation of surpluses.

He forecast a deficit of $160,000,000 this year but the economic boom—larger than anticipated—is likely to reduce the deficit to smaller proportions. Federal economists believe the boom will sweep over into next year.

CRITICIZES FARM LOAN

Federal plans to guarantee bank loans to prairie farmers on farm-stored grain were criticized last week by Hon. George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader.

At a press conference he urged immediate action—including a special session of parliament if needed—to authorize purchase of farm-held grain by the Canadian wheat board, with delivery on demand when congestion eases in grain elevators.

Mr. Drew said prairie farmers need cash immediately for taxes, living operations and preparations for next year. The government's bank loan proposal was unsatisfactory because banks do not have the trained staff to handle loans on grain, he said.

Other measures advocated were a new export sales drive by a "top-flight sales force" and an immediate study of the whole wheat situation by the Gordon royal commission on Canada's economy.

Prime Minister St. Laurent, commenting later, said no consideration has been given to calling a special session of parliament or asking the Gordon commission to study the problem.

SELECTIVE RECRUITING

Canada's armed forces, close to their manpower ceilings, are being more selective in their recruiting. More would-be recruits now are being rejected than are put on the roll-call. The army, for example, is turning away three applicants for every one it accepts.

By the end of September, armed forces strength totalled 116,599, made up of 19,105 in the navy, 47,420 in the army and 50,074 in the RCAF. Manpower ceilings are: Navy, 20,000; army, 49,000; RCAF, 51,000, or a total of 120,000.

Defence authorities said the ceiling of 120,000 could be reached in a month if the services accepted all applicants. But they were holding out for the best men available.

Recruiting officers said they feel the situation is good and that they are not worried as long as total strength is within two or three percent of the manpower ceiling.

Cut inter-facing for collars, cuffs and pocket flaps off about half an inch at the corners, and the finished product will be trimmer.

Okanagan Falls Fire Department Needs Equipment

Okanagan Falls, which has organized a volunteer fire department, and recently bought a second-hand fire truck from Burnaby, is still in need of additional equipment. Alderman H. M. Geddes informed City Council last week.

Alderman Geddes said that the volunteer department had also obtained the loan of equipment from the Penticton Fire Department, material that is not being used or required at present.

The letter to the local department from Okanagan Falls said, in part: "We are in need of a siren, as we are at present using the old Penticton fire bell, which is cracked, and the sound does not carry well."

"There must be a lot of equipment going to waste that would be better put to use by groups such as this," commented Alderman H. G. Garrioch. Alderman Geddes and other members of council agreed with this view and referred the request to council's fire committee, to see what aid might be possible for the infant unit in the neighboring community.

Nerve Weakness

How common is it among men and women over a certain age?

Nerve Weakness—Nerves—Nervous Exhaustion. There are many words for it including the Greek word Neurasthenia, meaning Nerve Weakness—a term often used to describe a condition that can affect many people over forty. After that age, you may complain of being easily tired. You feel "all in", irritable, moody, poor appetite. At such times many people wisely turn to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food for dependable help.

How long should you take Dr. Chase's Nerve Food?

It may have taken months for your body to become "run-down", sending distress signals many people call "nerves". Although Dr. Chase's Nerve Food helps to build up Nerve energy quickly, for best results you should take Dr. Chase's Nerve Food for at least 6 weeks. This gives your body a chance to get the full benefit of the Iron, Vitamin B-1 and other valuable medical ingredients in Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

At the end of 6 weeks you must be able to say to yourself, "I feel like a new person" . . . or we'll refund every penny you paid. Why not get started today?

Only 1,000 Years Left To See Falls

NAGARA FALLS, N.Y.—(UP)—

Niagara Falls will be nothing more than a long series of rapids in a "short time" say the geologists, so maybe you should hurry up and get a look at the mighty cascade of foaming water before it's gone.

Executive Secretary A. M. Anderson of the Niagara Frontier State Parks Commission agreed with the predictions of the geologists recently but was not too concerned about the disappearance of the falls.

"If you're talking about a thousand years or so from now, that is probably true," Anderson commented. "Geologically, a thousand years is a short time."

The geologists base their predictions on the fact that the falls are receding to a strata of soft rock a few hundred yards up stream. When the brink of the falls reaches the soft rock it will cut through and form a steep rapids.

SCIENCE

By DELOS SMITH

United Press Science Editor

NEW YORK, (UP) — When 62 babies born in St. Thomas' Hospital were taken home by their parents, 57, or 92 percent, had staphylococci in their noses. Worse, 55 of the 62 had staphylococci which had learned how to deal with penicillin most successfully.

When the mothers entered the hospital to have their babies, on 17 of the 62 carried staphylococci in their noses, and only one of these 17 colonies of the dread little "bugs" was able to resist the deadly chemical embraces (deadly for bacteria) of penicillin. But when the mothers left the hospital, 30 of the 62 harbored staphylococci in their noses, and 15 of the 30 were strains "resistant" to penicillin.

There, in concentrated form, you have one of the most difficult problems of medical science. It may well be unsolvable. On one hand you have penicillin and other antibiotics which have the miraculous power of wiping out staphylococci and other disease causing bacteria like crazy. But on the other hand, you have the startling ability of all these bacteria to change themselves chemically in such a way that they can resist any of the antibiotics.

CROSS-INFECTION

If the day ever comes when all disease-causing bacteria have become resistant to all the antibiotics, medical science will be back just where it was before the antibiotics were discovered — there will be no sure-fire way of wiping out disease causing bacteria and thus curing, practically overnight, the diseases they cause.

So the problem is a matter of prime and urgent interest to science, and should be to laymen. We couldn't live without our bacteria. There are innumerable varieties. Most are helpful in one way or another; only a relatively few sicken us and kill us. But they all get around, whether helpful, harmless, or harmful, with the utmost freedom.

Even in the antiseptic atmosphere of even the very best hospitals. Now St. Thomas' of London is one of the world's most scientific hospitals. It has a famous medical school, and practically from the advent of penicillin it has been keenly aware that disease-causing bacteria become resistant and has been trying to deal with the riddle of hospital "cross infection."

That is why the study of 62 women who had their babies in St. Thomas' was of so much interest to scientists. The study was made by Dr. Mary Barber, a bacteriologist as well as a medical doctor, who has been devoted to the problem for years.

TWO WAYS

Of the 31 nurses in the maternity ward — the nurses who attended the 62 babies — 17, or 55 per cent, had staphylococci in their noses. Fourteen of these strains were penicillin-resistant. Dr. Barber felt that "in most cases the babies had acquired their organisms (staphylococci) from the nurses rather than the mothers."

Some of the resistant strains were potential pyogenes — that is, pus-causing and, therefore, infectious. Yet there was not one case of serious infection. She also examined the staphylococci in 100 other hospital patients who were ill of staphylococci infection. Fifty-nine of these strains were resistant to penicillin, 30 to streptomycin, 25 to oxytetracycline, and three to chloramphenicol.

She saw two ways of "attacking" the problem. One was the keep "clean" surgical cases in "a clean ward." By "clean" she meant isolating patients completely free of staphylococci from patients who harbored even latent ones. The other way was "the intelligent use of antibiotics." With most of them, she said in her report in The Lancet, "local treatment for long periods is one of the best ways of rendering an organism resistant."

A Name By Any Other Name Might Be Easier

MILWAUKEE, (UP) — Ross Dick has always had trouble because both of his names sound like first names.

Dick said a hotel clerk at Detroit couldn't find his reservation.

"It's happened before," Dick said. "Why don't you look under Ross and see what you've got."

There it was, a room being held for Richard Ross. Dick awoke the next morning and found a strange man asleep in the other twin bed.

He rolled over and said: "Good morning, I'm Ross Dick."

"Oh, no," groaned the stranger. "Meet Dick Ross."

INCREASING CALL FOR BIBLES IS A CHALLENGE, SAYS MINISTER

"The ever increasing call for Bibles throughout the world is a challenge which must be courageously faced by all Christian people who enjoy the great blessings which the open Bible has brought."

The foregoing statement was made by the Rev. J. A. Raymond Tingley, Vancouver, provincial secretary of the British and Foreign Bible Society, speaking on Saturday night at a meeting of the executive of the Penticton branch of the Bible Society in the United Church.

The Bible Society, he said, is not just another organization, but is an essential and vital part of the Christian Church in its program of evangelism and missions. Never has there been a great spiritual revival without rediscovery of the Bible, he said, and any great missionary advance has been the result of rediscovering the message of the Bible as the Good News for all mankind. All Churches, he said, depend upon the Bible Society for the Scriptures used by their missionaries. Scriptures made available to them at a price people can afford to pay and far below their actual cost.

Last year, declared Mr. Tingley, the Society circulated more than six and a half million copies of the Scriptures at a loss of $860,000,—a loss which must be met by the generous giving of people who appreciate the Bible and would share it with the millions who are in darkness and bondage. He said that there are more than 1500 languages and dialects in which there is no portion of the Bible published, despite the fact that some Book of the Bible had been published in 1084, of which the British and Foreign Bible Society has been responsible for $32, a total circulation of 617 million copies during 151 years—a daily average of 31,000 copies.

James Campbell, the newly elected president of the Penticton branch of the Society presided at the meeting, which was attended by representatives from most of the city churches. Miss E. A. Thomas is the secretary-treasurer and an effort is being made to have one representative from each congregation on the executive. The ministers are vice-presidents of the branch.

Plans were made at the meeting to contact the various organizations of the churches inform-

Head Office Of New Business Located Here

Penticton has been selected as head office for a new business venture known as Associated Diversified Enterprises Ltd. and two well known local men are directors of the company.

The company's first plant, located at Consul, Saskatchewan, will manufacture and supply dry ice and refrigeration equipment. Plans are under consideration for plants at Mara Lake and New Westminster, B.C.

President of the company is P. D. O'Brien, Penticton lawyer, vice-president is Ben Nyen, local businessman, and managing director is Charles Gorse of New Westminster. Mr. Gorse is founder of the Gas Ice Corporation Canada Ltd.

General nature of the business is construction of plants, manufacture and supply of dry ice ing them of the work of the Society and soliciting funds to carry forward the Society's urgent program of Scripture distribution. It is planned to make a concerted effort to acquaint the city with the need for a much larger financial support of this most vital and worthwhile Christian enterprise.

and refrigeration equipment and machinery to deal with liquid carbon dioxide and carbon dioxide gas and kindred products.

Construction of the first plant at a cost of $250,000 is under way at Consul.

Offices of the company are located in the O'Brien and Christian building on Main street.

Directors say they have already received almost unlimited orders from railways, refrigerated trucks, fishing boats and other concerns using this type of refrigeration.
